It's Franklin County Fair Time!!

Hey 4-Hers! The Franklin County Fair is right around the corner! As a member of 4-H you can win money!! by entering your projects in the different 4-H categories. You still have plenty of time to make these projects or look through some of the projects you made this year in school or at a 4-H project day!

Bring your project to the Farm Bureau Pavilion on July 17th between 3:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. or July 18th from 8:00 a.m.-11:00 a.m. Each project will receive a blue, red, or white ribbon! First, second and third place winners will receive a ribbon AND MONEY!! Be sure and get a fair catalog for a complete listing of categories. The catalogs are available at the Extension Office or you can view it online now at <http://franklincountyfair.info/>. Call the Extension Office today for cooking recipes and other class materials! Don't miss out on the Franklin County Fair Fun! See you there!!!

 Don't forget to come out and support our 4-H youth at the Livestock Shows!!!**

The exciting Kentucky State Fair is Approaching! August 18th - 28th

Each year during the Kentucky State Fair, the West Hall becomes home to Cloverville. This exhibit morphs into a village that allows 4-H participants from across the state to display their skills and compete for champion honors. Major project categories include: entomology, geology, forestry, electric, foods, horticulture, woodworking, clothing, knitting and crocheting, home environment, consumer science management, technology, country hams and photography. Come check out the diversity of skills that are developed and offered through 4-H programming across the state.

Come Join Franklin County at the 2011 KY State Fair!!!
