A Tribute to Ella J. Webb & Lois Roberts Carey Land

Two special people in our Extension Homemaker organization, Ella J. Webb and Lois Land, passed away recently. These two ladies were members of the Lawrence County Extension Homemaker Organization and active in their communities. Both ladies were leaders in their communities and organizations of which they served. They both gave their time and shared their knowledge and skills so that the lives of others would be better.

In December, Ella J. Webb from the Webbville Homemakers Club passed away soon after being diagnosed with cancer. Ella J. was a leader in her community and homemaker club. When I first began my Extension career, Webbville had an active community development club of which Ella J. played an active role. John Sparks, former Agriculture Agent, and I would visit and do programs for this group. Over the years, Ella J. offered her residence for homemaker club meetings. She owned and operated a store next to her home and later the homemaker club met there. Ella J. loved her community and the people who reside there. She will be greatly missed by family, friends, and her community.

Lois Land was also a very special person who followed her mother's footsteps (Marie Carey) in many ways in particular with the Extension Homemaker organization. Lois was born a teacher; and that was what she did all her life. During and after retirement, she taught Extension homemaker lessons and skills with all who wanted to learn. Her love of learning and sharing with others was her gift to others. Lois always had a smile on her face. She had patience and time for everyone she met. Lois believed and lived by the mission of the Cooperative Extension Service, "to help others help themselves." She found joy in helping and teaching others. Although Lois moved to Ashland to leave with family, she would make her way back occasionally to visit her homemaker club, the Dennis-Green Valley Homemakers. This club and its members were special to Lois, as her mother, Marie, actually organized Lawrence County Extension Homemakers and the Dennis-Green Valley Homemaker club many years ago. I know that many of you, like me, will deeply miss Lois. Lois passed away January 14, 2012.
